1.2. Curriculum Planning and Implementation

1.2.1 Teaching Schedule

The institution ensures effective curriculum planning and implementation through a well-structured and systematically monitored teaching schedule. At the beginning of each academic year, departments prepare academic calendar in accordance with the prescribed curriculum and ensuring timely coverage of syllabus content.

Faculty members adhere strictly to the teaching schedule throughout the academic year to maintain continuity and consistency in the teaching–learning process. To support diverse learning needs, teachers conduct extra classes, remedial sessions, and doubt-clearing sessions whenever required. This flexibility ensures that students achieve the expected learning outcomes without academic stress.

The progress of syllabus completion is reviewed periodically through departmental meetings, internal assessments, student feedback, and academic monitoring mechanisms. This organized and outcome-oriented approach facilitates smooth completion of the curriculum, enhances teaching effectiveness, supports achievement of learning objectives, and provides students with a structured, engaging, and meaningful learning experience.
