

3.2.5 Use of library resources

Library resources are not only used by the students, but they also cater the needs of teachers and other college staff. Hence, more than 75 percent of the library's resources are used by both teachers and students. Students and teachers often borrow books from the library to meet their needs. Magazines and newspapers generally help students in updating their knowledge and also assist in preparation for competitive exams. The record of library visitors is maintained properly in the visitors register and book issuance register by the concerned staff.
